Fireworks are being exploded about the city by the small boys, who want to display their patriotism in advance of the giorious Feurth, and complaints are still being made against them. The setting off of fireworks is in direct violation of law, but the police are not making wholesale arrests. Speaking of the complaints made a policeman said he thought the permits to sell fireworks should restrict the retail dealers to certain dates. If you want anything, try an ad. in The Star. Pigeons in High Altitudes. From the Philadelphia Record.

On Thursday the statement was made in this column that Prof. King would make a balloon ascension on the Fourth of July and would liberate carrier pigeons at two and four-mile heights, and that the experiment would be watched with interest by pigeon fanciers. John Wise, who at one time was known as the youngest aeronaut in the world, and who is now living in this city, takes exception to the experimental feature of this announcement and says that as early as 1808 scientific men took earrier pigeons with them, and found that at great elevations, if the pigeons do not die, they will not leave the balloon. If beaten off will not leave the balloon. If beaten off they will cling to the netting or perch on the top of the balloon. 'I can state from my own experience,' continued Mr. Wise, "that a pigeon is of little use for the delivery of messages after it has been over 1,500 feet high. I have had them on many ascensions, and always found this to hold true. The first time I had them up was on September 8, 1874, when I had birds from Harry Howell of Lancaster, Mr. Woods of No. 1102 Taney street, and from Mr. Grist, a noted bird fancier of Philadelphia at that time. The ascension was made from Center

Articles incorporating the Washington Building Stone Company have been filed by P. J. Noonan, P. J. Ryan and Hayden Johnson, trustees for the first year. The capital stock is placed at $1,000.

"Where is Dorsey Foultz?" is a question that the police have been unable to answer. The latest clue received located the fugitive in Rockville. "He entered a store there last Thursday," said the man who gave the information to the police, "and asked the way to the falls." This man said that Foultz also hought something to said that Foultz also bought something to eat while in the store.

"Lem" Diggs, the colored man who attempted to kill Henrietta West, his former sweetheart, on the road near Benning Tuesday night, is still at large. He is about twenty-six years old, and has the reputation of being a drinking man and a "crap shooter." Yesterday afternoon the nolles were told that he was in Bledwer. police were told that he was in Biadens-burg the day after the shooting, and had not gone to New York, as had been "eported.

An alarm was sounded from box 418 about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, for fire in the kitchen of house 234 1st street southwest. The explosion of a gasoline stove caused the fire, and the occupants stove caused the fire, and the occupants of the house had to run out in the rain to save themselves. By the time the firemen reached the house there was virtually nothing left in the kitchen, and the loss is estimated at about $100. E. M. McCormick occupied the rouse, which is owned by the Capital Traction Company.

Inspector Hollinberger has received from the Memphis authorities a circular, offer-ing a reward of $100 for the arrest of J. A. Thurman, alias J. E. Thomas, alias Morris, alias Philip M. Lootz, who escaped from jall there last month. The fugitive, who is about twenty-five years old, is indicted on three charges of forgery. James McCullough, an employe of the Wallace circus, was arrested by Policeman Harries for carrying a concealed weapon, but in the Police Court yesterday Judge Kimball ruled that the interior of the circus tent was for the time being the home of McCullough, and, therefore, dismissed the case. The pistol was turned over to the property clerk.

Earl Ambrese, a wheelman, is fully aware of the fact that a bicycle cannot derail a cable car, for his iron horse col-lided with one of the Columbia cars yesterday. The accident happened on H street horthwest between 2d and 3d streets, about 5 o'clock. Fortunately the rider was not hurt, but the wheel was slightly disfigured. An elderly colored man named George Harris was taken sick near 1st and East Capitol streets yesterday. The police took him to Providence Hospital for treatment.

A dangerous hele in alley in rear of No. 523 New Jersey avenue was reported by Lieut. Kelly today.

Fannie Yates, colored, nineteen years old, who lives at 349 Wilson street, had a hemorrhage. Because of the seriousness of her condition the vas taken to Freedman's Hespital for treatment. The police have esked for an analysis of the water from the pump in front of 1511 Caroline street northwest. This request was made because of complaints concerning the alleged impurity of the water. There is an abardoned well in alley between Sheridan sircet and Whitney avenue and 6th and 5th streets. The well is in a dangerous condition and is also a menace to the public health, so the police report. In front of 2009 11th street northwest a limb of a tree forms an obstruction. A similar obstruction near 6th and I streets southwest was also reported.

A broken pavement in front of 202 412 street southwest was reported to the street department by the police this morning. Michael Perrone, white, eight years old, Michael Perrone, white, eight years out, and Edward Thompson, colored, ten years old, were reported lost last night. The boys had managed to find the circus grounds, but were unable to get back home. The white boy was found about 9:30 o'clock, but it was nearly midnight when the colored how was restored to his

was offered at the sub-treasury in Cincinnati. 'This is probably the first time in the history of the office that a coin of that denomination was ever beheld by the attaches. The coin came from the Fifth National Bank, to which one of the depositors had taken it to find out how much it was worth. The tellers at the bank were unable to decide the question, and the coin was sent to Uncle Sam's employes in the Federal building, but no one ther accept it for the treasury for its face value.
Coln Teller Robert Brasher, who is a numismatist of considerable repute, as well numismatist of considerable repute, as well as Teller White, who is considered one of the most expert counterfeit detectors in the country, and Cashier Stout, said that they had never heard of the government coining a piece of money of that denomination, and that they would not accept it even at its face value. The tables giving the coinage of money from the earliest date to the present time were looked up, but there was no record of the government ever having coined a H gold piece. The coin that was presented was placed on the scales and was found to weigh 108 2-10 grains, making it worth about 20 cents more than its face value.

The description of the coin is as follows:

time. The ascension was made from Center Square, Lancaster, and at 1,500 feet elevation the bird reached its cote, eleven miles away, in twenty minutes with its message. The other of Mr. Howell's pigeons, sent out at 5,000 feet, reached its cote next morning. At 7,000 feet the remainder would not leave the balloon. Frequently I have since had them up, and have come to the conclusion that a carrier pigeon loses all of its function at over 1,500 feet elevation."
